qualifications and in high standing, and it was not known that he had an enemy in the world. Still it is evident that it was his murder that was planned, and thus boldly and dastardly carried into execution. It is the foulest murder ever perpetrated in this county, and is generally believed to be outcome of some petty, personal malice of a hellish villain, whose cowardly ven-om overran all considerations or regard for human life. The con-gregation consisted of some of the best people of the place, who had as-ssembled for prayer without dreaming of any disturbance, until the gun, sounding like a small can-non startled them with such awful results.

The Ojizen's Executive Com-mittee has offered a reward of $500 and Governor Lowry was tele-graphed asking him to make an additional reward of 100 dollars for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrator. The arrest may be made, but the trial and conviction as well as the execution is liable to be brief as it should. No stone will be left unturned to the end that the death of a good man shall speedily avenged. At this writing no clue of any importance has been found.
